TINKERINE SIGNS LEADING NEW YORK CITY ELECTRONICS RETAILER ADORAMA INC.

Vancouver, B.C. – June 8, 2015 – Tinkerine™ Studios Ltd. (the “Company”), (TSXV: TTD, FSE: WB6B and OTC: TKSTF), Canada's leading manufacturer of desktop 3D printers and 3D printing educational content, announces it has appointed leading New York City retailer Adorama Inc., who will offer Tinkerine's full suite of award winning 3D printing products including the Ditto™ Pro, its software, Tinkerine Suite, the company's own line of high purity filament and online training with TinkerineU.

An initial shipment is in transit and Adorama is pleased to be offering Tinkerine products to its substantial and diverse customer base. Adorama is well known for its cameras and consumer electronics superstore, based in New York City, and its large online sales presence that services customers internationally and includes free online creative education through the Adorama Learning Center.

Adorama VP of Development Ahron Schachter commented, “We believe Tinkerine offers the high level of both quality products and service that will satisfy the needs of our creative customers in the rapidly expanding desktop 3D printer segment.”

“The appointment of Adorama is another step in reaching our targets through our growing global distribution network, who are making our award winning products accessible to all 3D users and those interested in learning about the wide ranging benefits of 3D,” said Eugene Suyu, CEO of Tinkerine.
