Vancouver, B.C. – April 22nd, 2015 - Tinkerine™ Studios Ltd. (TSXV: TTD, FSE: WKN WB6B and OTC: TKSTF), Canada's leading manufacturer of the award winning Ditto™Pro 3D desktop printer and 3D printing educational content, is pleased to announce it has commenced shipment to DTSL Group ("DTSL") Hong Kong's leading 3D printing distributor and solutions provider.

With DTSL signing on with Tinkerine as a dealer, DTSL will continue to increase its position as one of the leading 3D printing solution providers to schools, designers, architects and hobbyists by offering Tinkerine's Ditto™Pro 3D printer and software, consumables, and online training support through Tinkerine U.

Jack Wu, Business Director at DTSL commented, "DTSL has been promoting 3D printing in education sectors within the Greater China region for three years now. Based on our experience deploying 3D technology in more than 100 schools and universities, merely having a 3D printer is not enough to ensure educators and their students apply 3D printing technology effectively in learning and teaching. Tinkerine U provides a global education platform that will greatly assist in DTSL extending its reach."

Tinkerine's Channel Service Manager, Vivian Chu added "Hong Kong is an important market for us and we continue to add new channel partners every month. Teaming up with DTSL gives us a stronger foothold in the Hong Kong education market and they share our vision of how we see 3D printing technologies supporting a whole new generation of design thinkers."
